U. M. C. CARTRIDGES

for every gun in camp

Different men differ as to their favorite kind of rifle. Practically all agree, however, on U. M. C. Cartridges. A glimpse at the interior of most any hunting shack presents these facts. There is a reason. U. M. C. Cartridges are made to fit and are tested in all the different styles of rifles made by the different arms companies.

Every rifle does better shooting with U. M. C. Cartridges.

Fish and Game Oddities.

Division of Labor.

A few years ago H. R. Horton, one of the Flagstaff guides, was out on the bog which surrounds Flagstaff Pond, with a gentleman who wanted to secure the photograph of a moose. They were sure of getting the photo. for the moose came out into the bog every day. The moose was sighted and the canoe pointed that way. After going a short distance, bushes were found growing across the inlet and the rest of the journey had to be made by creeping along in the grass.

The animals, for there were two of them, were hidden behind a clump of bushes until someone across the pond began shooting at some ducks. Then they began to run towards the adventures. The fact that a bull and cow were together rendered it rather dangerous. They thought that a charge might be made upon them, and the fact that there was absolutely nothing to provide a refuge in that case, brought the very natural query from the man with the camera, "what in the world shall we do, Horton, if the old fellow charges on us?" Horton is a first-class shot with a revolver and had at the time two of the trusty weapons in his belt. His reply was only half comforting, "well, I guess you had better pray and I will shoot."

Climbed a Tree.

Years ago two young men were sawing wood in the woods not far from a Maine village. They were using a horse power and had not the slightest idea of being troubled by wild animals while making so much noise. However, one day one of them thought he heard a snort and on looking up, he saw an immense bull moose charging down upon them. One of them climbed a tree, while the other ran up onto the top of the wood pile. The man on the wood pile had grabbed his rifle before going up to his perch, but having but four cartridges, his ammunition soon played out and still the moose remained unhurt. The old bull kept them in their elevated positions five hours.

On the day after as a man in an adjoining town was driving his cows to pasture, he thought he heard a noise behind him and looking around saw a big bull moose making for him. The man took "leg bail" for the nearest house. When he passed into the house and closed the door the moose was on the doorsteps. The moose did not stay long but soon made for the woods.

Some time ago as a Skowhegan man was driving into town, within a mile of the village, a large buck deer came out into the road ahead of him. The man had no rifle with him, so he thought he would have some fun with the deer. He took out the whip and started the horse into a lively trot.

At first the animal gained in the lead, but soon slowed down and a race at close quarters was on. The driver made all the noise he could so as to get all the fun there was in it out of the race.

After a half mile run the deer left the road and went off through the pasture. Two men were just coming over the hill in that direction. They soon shot, but as the deer kept on running it is not likely they hit him.

Deer is at Home.

A Maine man complains that his beans are being cropped by a deer. This creature is supposed to be the same one which for several seasons has hung about his pasture, which is located some distance from any habitation, feeding quietly with the cow during the day, but on the approach of her master trots away to a safe distance, but is sure to return in the morning. Two foxhounds kept in the place often race through the enclosure, but they don't trouble the deer, thinking her a domestic like the cow, it is presumed.

Doe With Antlers.

A doe possessing quite a respectable pair of antlers was seen in a Maine city years ago. The animal came down from Moosehead way and was shot by a Brewer man. There have been a few does with horns seen in this section of the country within the last ten years or so, but they are a very rare animal. Cow caribou sometimes have antlers but a cow moose with a set has never been heard of.

The Marlin Baby Featherweight Repeater. A new high-grade .22 caliber repeating rifle which weighs only 3 pounds 10 ounces!

But this gun is no toy. It is a new and business-like rifle. It combines all the good old Marlin features—solid top, side ejection and simple mechanism—with the newer sliding forearm action which is so easy to work without spoiling the aim.

The reduction of cost and weight is positively not at the expense of Marlin quality. The high standard Marlin drop forgings are used in the breech block, frame and inside working parts. The rifle has the pleasant Marlin balance. Both .22 short and .22 long-rifle cartridges can, by means of an extra carrier, be used in the same gun—a Marlin feature which all rifle shooters greatly enjoy.

If your dealer cannot supply you write us direct. A complete description of this little rifle is given in our 1906 Catalogue. Sent FREE for six cents postage.

RANGELEY LAKE HOUSE.

BEAUSEANT COMMANDERY ENTER TAINED PILGRIM COMMANDERY.

Fishing Sandwiched With Sociability Helps Make the Occasion One Never to Be Forgotten.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

RANGELEY, June 12, 1906.

This hotel has been very gay this week past, and one would think the mid summer season had come.

Nature is smiling and looks as if its face had been washed clean, the trees have leaved out, and the wild flowers are in bloom everywhere. The fishing record still continues to be watched with eager interest, and the past week has been a lucky one for many.

Beauseant Commandery Knight Templars of Malden, Mass., who have been "at home" here since Saturday are having perfect weather and "the time of our lives."

The following are the names of the Sir Knights and ladies:

Em. Comdr. Dr. Chas. E. Prior and wife, Genlo. Arthur W. Walker, Capt. Gen. Marion V. Putnam and wife, Sen. War. Willis I. Foss, Jun. War. Harry P. Ballard, Recorder, Arthur W. Hutchins, Warden George A. Chisholm, Guard George F. Bradstreet, Adj. Elmore E. Locke and wife, Escort Joseph E. Anderson, Geo. H. Buckminster and wife, Alfred Cast, wife and child, Harry A. Hall: Past Commanders, Geo. L. Griffin, Walter F. Medding, wife and son, Thomas P. Blake and wife, and Knights Geo. N. Bates, Clarence W. Fox and wife, Winfield S. Kanback and wife, William W. Lee, James B. Lord, Joseph H. Nate and wife, Frank M. Perry, Benj. F. Sammet, and wife, Arthur Whittier and wife, Frank O. Whittier and wife, Miss Whittier, Edward M. Whittier and wife, Mrs. Purinton, Mrs. Bodie, Harry Stevens and wife, J. A. Stockwell, W. P. Clark and wife, A. G. Furbush and wife, A. W. Herrick and wife, Alex. Grant and wife, C. F. Thurston and wife, Mrs. Adams, J. H. Milliken and wife, Miss Breslen, Miss Bradstreet, Jas. Winslow, accompanied by the Beauseant band, who were welcomed by one of their own commandery, Chas. P. Stevens, who with Mrs. Stevens are here for the summer and add much to the pleasure of their friends.

On Sunday quite a company attended the village church, where their orchestra was assisted by six fine singers. Mrs. Putnam who sung a beautiful solo. Messrs. Clark and Griffin, who sung a duet added much to the service.

Others went fishing and En. Commander Dr. Chas. E. Prior was most fortunate in catching a 51-2 pound salmon and Edwin M. Whittier one 63-4 pounds. In the afternoon a party took a steamer ride on the lake, others went walking and driving, and in the evening all gathered in the large parlor for music.

Monday the day was bright and clear and every one was happy. The concerts, morning, afternoon and dancing in the Casino evenings all added to the gaiety. Tuesday the Knights in full uniform, which by the way is one of the handsomest worn, greeted the guests of Pilgrim Commandery Sir Knights and ladies, which tendered them a grand banquet in the evening which proved to be a most brilliant and pleasing affair.

The tables were arranged in a line on each side, at the west side of the dining

Wednesday morning at 9.30 a special took the party over the Phillips & Rangeley and Sandy River railroads where they were entertained by Pilgrim Commandery at a lunch in Drummond hall Past Eminent Commander Sir Harry B. After breakfast Sunday morning teams took them over to Haines Landing where Capt. Barker's big steamer was waiting and took them for a sail around the lake, up to Pleasant Island and Upper Dam, then to The Birches where a sumptuous dinner was served and then they went to The Barker and spent the night going home from Bemis Monday by special train. It was to most of them their first visit to the Rangeleys and they will now have some idea of the beauties of the region.

Some fine fish have been taken here the past week. S. W. Vincent of Nashua, N. H., and J. R. Vincent of Brockton, Mass., with David Haines guide, were very proud of their luck for the first time fishing in Rangeley waters.

They had been out but a short time before they struck a 5-pound salmon that gave them great sport and they sent him home to friends. The next day they had a great catch. S. W. Vincent caught a 3-lb trout and J. K. Vincent caught a 3-pound salmon and they also caught more than a dozen trout weighing from 1 to 3-pounds each.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis E. Putnam of Worcester, Mass. are here for a two weeks' sojourn. Mrs. Putnam is a fine angler and spends much time on the lake. The first day out she landed a 4-pound salmon. The next day her husband a 3 pound salmon. E. F. Lamb is their guide.

It seems strange for the guests here to receive letters from their city homes telling of the warm weather, for on Tuesday morning it was so cold here, ice formed a fourth of an inch in the boats.

Mrs. Fred Comee of Boston accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Staple arrived Saturday night and for the season the flag will fly at Rouge et Noir. Mr. Comee will be welcomed the first of July.

Chicken Pie.

Made with biscuits instead of the usual crust is improved by breaking open the biscuits and buttering them. There is no better way of seasoning any gravy—as for instance the cream sauce on toast—than by buttering the toast the last thing, as it lets the butter run into it in little streaks without entirely blending, with good results to both looks and flavor. In the biscuit chicken pie, split the top crusts off thin, butter, and arrange them over the top of the chicken, which is laid sandwich fashion on the bottom crusts.

How to Shred Lettuce.

When only the straight edged variety of lettuce can be procured, shred it with an extremely sharp knife or scissors for about two inches deep around the edge. It will make a pretty fringed effect, is easier to eat, and will not bruise the leaves if it is set in a colander on the ice directly after cutting.

GREENE'S FARM.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT OLD TIME HOSPITALITY PREVAILS

Trout Fishing and a Few Notes Regarding the Farm, the Stage Line and the New Train Service.

(Special Correspondence to MAINE WOODS.)

GREENE'S FARM, June 11, 1906.

The last passenger station on the little Eustis railroad is Greene's Farm and although the farm is now owned and managed by Mr. Albion Savage a old time guide and at present one of the best known lumberman, the same atmosphere of hospitality and good cheer prevails as in the time of the former owner.

This spring the farm has been visited by sportsmen, who are unanimous in their expressions of pleasure regarding the beauty of the place and its fine location.

Mr. E. B. Whorff, an old time hotel man, is acting as "major domo" at the farm and it is needless to say is executing his duties in a manner satisfactory to all. The stage driver is Harry Bates of Phillips, who very acceptably filled this position last year. Mrs. E. B. Whorff presides in the kitchen.

With the present train service it is possible to leave Boston in the evening and arrive at Greene's Farm early in the morning of the next day.

The stage service to Stratton is excellent. A new carriage for use on the stage line has been purchased by Mr. Savage.

The trout fishing in the private pond on the farm and in the brook is particularly good this spring.

One of the first arrivals at this place was F. C. Burnham, who was on his way to Spring Lake from his home in Hartford, Conn. Mr. Burnham has visited Spring Lake for the last eight or ten years and always gets some big fish.

Rangeley Lake News.

Prof. S. R. Morse, of Atlantic City, N. J., is at his camp on Rangeley lake after visiting in Livermore. He came to Rangeley on Monday of this week to meet several New Jersey friends including ex-Governor Watkins, who was there with Mr. W. A. Faunce and expected to remain another week with Prof. Morse, but was called home to be at the Insurance investigation. Ex Governor Watkins is at the head of the Banking & Insurance department of his state. He was at Rangeley last year with Prof. Morse and Mr. Faunce and thinks there is no place like it. He had good fishing last season. Gov. Stokes of New Jersey and State Supt. of Schools C. J. Baxter, also Dr. M. J. Braumbough of the University of Pennsylvania also expected to visit Prof. Morse and Mr. Faunce but they have been detained by business. They will however, make the trip later. Mr. Morse only had one day's fishing at the Rangeleys but got 6 salmon, 5 of which weighed 17 1-2 pounds collectively after they were dressed. The largest one weighed 6 1-2 pounds.

Salmon of Moxie Pond.

MAINE WOODS has for years enjoyed the reputation of giving its readers many rareties in descriptive write ups relating to fishing and hunting. We print many good things every week but we think we can reasonably say that the present issue is above the average in general interest.

But we believe next week's issue will be a record breaker in many ways.

We will take especial pains to make our regular features interesting and in addition to regular features we will publish a fascinating article from Lieu- tenant Colonel Andrew Haggard, D. S. O., entitled "Salmon of Moxie Pond." The story is served up in Col. Haggard's very interesting style and we are sure our readers will all be anxious to read it

We present this week, several letters of interest to sportsmen from the Dead River region a section of Maine that has been written about by MAINE WOODS correspondents for many years past and has received the benefit of our adver- tising columns almost constantly. Nev- ertheless the possibilities of this great game and fish region are but slightly appreciated by people who have not visited it.

We present this week several letters from resorts in the Dead River region and we expect to do more work of that kind for this great region both through our advertising columns and by corres- pondents.

BIRCHES LADIES GET FISH.

LOOKS LIKE LADIES' WEEK AT THE RANGELEY LAKES.

Camps Nearly All Are Taken Now and People Are Coming and Going All of the Time.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.)

THE BIRCHES, June 9, 1906.

Never did the silver birches look more beautiful or the lawn present a more attractive green, dotted with the golden dandelions, and the apple trees now in bloom make the island look like a pic- ture.

Nearly every camp is now taken and as fast as one party goes others are waiting to come.

Dodropin and Wawa camps are occu- pied by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lacroix of Lynn and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gage of Swampscott, Mass. Their guides are Herbert Moore and Arthur Huntoon. The ladies are taking the lead, for the big fish take their hook. Mrs. Gage has brought in a 4-pound salmon, Mrs. Lacroix a 3 1-2-pounder and they have taken many smaller ones.

Miss H. C. Green of Brooklyn, who came when the camps were opened, went home this week planning to re- turn in July, bringing her mother and sister to spend the remainder of the season here.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Orr of New York City are for the first time enjoy- ing camp.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Blanchard of Portland are passing several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thorne of San Francisco, who were at the Palace Ho- tel at the time of the shake up, are in Camp What Cheer this week and with Russ Spinney, guide, plan to land some big fish.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Springer of Lis- bon Falls are passing a few days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Tilton of Chest- nut Hill, Mass., have Camp Sabiar and with H. Richardson, guide, are having fine fishing. Mr. Tilton has landed one 5-pound salmon and on Friday Mrs. Tilton caught a 3 1-2-pound trout.

Staywhile camp is taken this week by Mr and Mrs. R. J. Gore, Wm. E. Wyman of Boston and Mrs. G. E. War- ren of Waltham. Jack McKinnon is their guide. They always come in with fish weighing 2 pounds, but don't think the 3 and 4-pound salmon are big ones.

All are glad to welcome Major Henry McFarland and wife of Concord, N. H., who are here for their annual spring fishing trip. Will Porter is their guide. The Major has taken one 4 1-2-pound- salmon, one 3 1-2-pound and some fine trout.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Martin of Boston have arrived for a month's stay. Rube Wilbur intends to take them where the fish will bite. George B. Fox of Bos- ton has been here for a few days' out- ing.

For a two weeks' fishing trip, the first time at the Rangeleys, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Hutchins of Lynn, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Alden B. Sleeper of Swampscott, Mass., with Reuben Wil- bu, Jim Stewart and H. Moore, guides, are having good sport. Mrs. Hutchins has the honor of catching a handsome 6 1-2-pound trout, which the chef planked in his best style for the party. The others are not reporting their 3- pounders.

"The Happy Seven" have returned home. Just before leaving, as they were returning from their last fishing, when almost to the shore Mr. C. G. Winter of Boston struck and after a good fight landed a 6 1-2-pound trout, that he took back to the city to prove any fish story the party may reel off to their friends.

The rainy days have been jolly ones. The guests in camp have kept the big open fireplaces piled high with birch logs, and the bright fires have added good cheer, while over the glowing coals, corn has been popped and taffy made.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hunt and Mrs. E. F. Taylor of Cambridge, Mass., re- turned home the last of the week with a box of fish as evidence of their having been fishing. This was Mr. Hunt's fourth season at The Birches and he says it was the best fishing he has ever had. In his catch was one 5-pound salmon, one 3 1-4, one 3, and some 2- pound trout. All fish under 1 pound were returned to the water. He was guided by D. E. Heywood.

THE SARGENT LETTER.

Bears, Seven of 'Em, Caught by Joe St. Ober. Fishing Excellent.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.)

EUSTIS, June 13, 1906.

It used to be called the New Shaw House, but now it is known as The Sarg- ent. We refer to the well managed and finely appointed hotel in Eustis con- ducted by A. L. Sargent.

Before the sportsmen and sportswom- en go into the woods they often tarry for a time here. When they come out they do likewise, and many are so pleased with their surroundings that they stay here indefinitely.

Fishing on the Dead River near the hotel is excellent, trout and an occa- sional salmon being taken. The salmon are a surprise to many anglers, but it is thought they come from Chain of Ponds.

Elmer Tonguay is the young man who carries the King and Bartlett and Blakeslee lake mail as far as Deer pond, which means a tramp of 20 miles each 24 hours. But Elmer minds this not at all and "skidoos the distance each day. Your correspondent thinks young Tonguay will be in excellent condition at the close of the season for a long distance "hike."

Joe St. Ober, the note trapper and guide, was proudly displaying seven large bear skins Sunday, the fruit of this spring's trapping. Joe has other furs, but bear skins predominate. They are already sold to A. B. Dolbier of Farmington, the largest skins bring- ing two dollars each.

WELD FISHING AND FOLKS.

W. H. King and S. Littlefield got 16 fish in one day. Two bass, one pickerel, and the rest were trout and salmon.

Monday, June 4, Henry Swett caught 11 trout and salmon.

Fly Rod's Note Book.

On the shore of Mooselookmeguntic lake, the largest of the Rangeleys, half way between Haines landing and Bald Mountain Camps is The Oxford Bear, the camp owned by Hon. George D. Bisbee of Rumford Falls.

For a few days Mr. Bisbee and Stanley entertained Hon. Charles H. Prince of Buckfield, Hon. James Irish of Hartford, Portmaster James H. DeCoster of Mechanic Falls, Nahum Moore of Rumford Falls and Hon. H. O. Stanley of Dixfield.

This is a reunion of the old Buckfield Club formed in 1870.

In 1865 Hon. George D. Bisbee in company with Hon. H. O. Stanley first came to this region and tented at the outlet of Rangeley lake. During that trip Mr. Stanley caught on the fly a trout that weighed over 8 pounds.

In 1870 two Buckfield gentlemen, Artimus Ward and D. Atwood formed the Buckfield Club. They first tented, then built a camp on the rocks opposite Senator Frye's camp, where the flag pole of the present camp owned by Ralph Spotts of New York. This was for a quarter of a century one of the land marks of the lakes.

In speaking of these days, Mr. Bisbee said, "In those days the club members were great fishermen and were always lucky, but the mode of fishermen and fishing has changed.

"Then they did not dress in belted suits and swallow tailed coats. We used to come to Beach hill in buckboards and bring our own "grub," live in a tent and cook out doors.

"We always stopped at Long pond and got smelts for live bait and had plenty of good fat angle worms.

"Did you know that "Uncle Cole" first introduced to Rangeley the R. I. angle worms? These worms were large and a dark red and were brought from R. I. and planted nearly fifty years ago.

"But I am chef and must hurry back to camp and cook dinner for our guests, and the boys have caught some nice trout I am going to fry," said Mr. Bisbee as he hurried away to Oxford Bear where the reunion of the members of the old club that are now living occurs.

They are all great believers in the Sturgis bill and there is not a drop of rum in camp.

I think this toast would be appropriate for them.

Little drops of water, little flakes of ice
Make the little cocktails Sturgis calls so nice
Thus the little cocktails temperate though they be
Make a mighty increase in Maine's Democracy.

TROUT IN MOOSE RIVER.

LADY FROM NEW YORK CASTS FLY WITH GREAT SUCCESS.

Bath Man Lands a Big Salmon and Boothby Capen of Augusta Takes a Good One.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

KINEO, MOOSEHEAD LAKE, June 11, 1906.

Excellent fishing continues and an increasing number of men and women are coming to enjoy the sport which is assured for weeks to come. The capacity of the cottage and annex are taxed way beyond their capacity and accommodations in the big house will now be in constant command until its opening, about the twentieth. Trout are being brought in by the hundred weight, of togue there are big ones for all and the number of salmon is far beyond the average, and both the fly and troll are proving effective lures.

Mr. Edward W. Hyde, former mayor of Bath, played a good joke on his companions in camp a few days ago with the "assistance" of a sea salmon that had been shipped to him as a joke by some of his friends down on the sea shore. Mr. Hyde received the beautiful fish by express and as the others in the party didn't know what the box contained he succeeded in using it in the early morning, in a way to create a good deal of wonder among his companions and the guides. The first intimation the folks in camp had that Mr. Hyde had landed a "big one" was when he rushed into the camp in the early morning and brought them out to the shore, to find the big fish there dead and Mr. Hyde's tackle, with which he landed him in a decidedly tangled and disjointed condition. The following by our Kineo correspondent is an excellent story of the catch written purely as a piece of entertaining fiction, although all of us who are acquainted with the facts are sure that there are a great many landlocked salmon in Moosehead that are bigger than the one referred to. Here's the story.

The sensational feature of a week's fishing which was in many other ways exceptional, was the taking of a 14 pound, 13 ounce landlocked salmon by Ed Hyde of Bath. The monster fish is a record breaker.

The story of the capture of the fish is in keeping with its size, sensational from start to finish, and the battle was uncertain in its outcome until the big fellow lay gasping on the sandy shore.

Mr. Hyde, who is an early riser, started out shortly after 4 o'clock, paddling off alone in a canoe opposite his private camp, for a little trolling and to whet his appetite for breakfast.

He had barely got the trolling line out its length when the strike came and it did not take him long to discover that there was a "whale", to use the language of fishermen, on the other end. Shortly the salmon went into the air, its silvery sides shimmering in the morning light 50 yards away, and for an hour after that the angler simply held onto the rod. Gradually, however, the pace began to tell upon the fish and he was finally brought near enough to the canoe to give the lucky angler heart palpitation. Half an hour more of fighting made it possible to try the landing net, but alone in the canoe as he was, Mr. Hyde soon saw that this was worse than useless. Then the possibility of shooting the fish presented itself, but was also discarded, and as a last resort, Mr. Hyde tired the salmon with forced rushes, then made for the sloping sandy shore, dropped the rod, grasped the line, pulled the monster into shallow water on the edge of the beach and fell upon him bodily.

Nearly two hours had elapsed since the strike, and the struggle had as a breakfast appetizer, called for about all the strenth the angler possessed. The salmon measured over 34 inches in length and its weight 14 pounds, 13 ounces, is vouched for by a number who saw the monster as it hung, in state, upon the cabin door, where unfortunately, it was allowed to remain too long before steps were taken for its permanent preservation.

Many big salmon have been lost here and many of the unfortunate anglers have insisted that they were 15-pounders but owing to the fact that the best catch up to that time had been a 10-pounder, these stories have been given little heed. Mr. Hyde's achievement, however puts a new light on the question and the firm impression that not only the mate of the big fish, but others like him are in the lake waiting for the right kind of lure, has led to a revolution in tackle by a number who are after the big ones.

The ordinary tackle used in trolling for trout and togue is no match for the strength of these monster fish and savage fighters, and Mr. Hyde's succe-

HOTELS AND CAMPS.

SPENCER HAS FISH GALORE.

WATER IS HIGH BUT TROUT ARE COMING QUITE FAST.

"Old Sport" Writes Maine Woods About Things at Tommey Gerrard's, Over Jackman Way.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]

JACKMAN, June 12, 1906.

Messrs. Weber and Wingate killed casting with fly in the Big lake 12 trout weighing 12 pounds.

Cnas. W. Epting and son caught fly casting in Big lake the afternoon they fished, 19 weighing 18 pounds.

Messrs. Wingate and Weber are charmed with Spencer lake and are delighted with the fishing which was had under the unfavorable conditions as the lake was flood high—being 10 feet above normal conditions but it gives them an idea what great fishing there must be when conditions are normal. The Eptings made a trip to the dam where the gates had just been were astounded at the volume of water passing through the gates likened to the raging torrent below the dam to the famous whirlpool rapids Niagara Falls.

I am pleased to inform his friends and the sporting public that Will Adams will guide at these camps again this summer.

Paul York and a crew of 10 men arrived June 6th and stopped over night and started the next morning for Jackman.

The rear of the drive went out of Spencer stream at 9.30 this a. m. and is now in the hands of the corporation. Spencer never has a greater head on and the logs went out with one great rush.

Arrivals:

Mrs. Nancy Church, Farmington; Miss Marcia B. Wilber, Phillips; Justin W. Howard and wife, Lexington; E. Y. Weber, New York; W. H. Wingate, New York; Paul York John McCormish guide, Greenville; Chas. W. Epting, Philadelphia; Wm. J. Epting, Philadelphia; Jas. H. Bratten, Philadelphia; Daniel Niles guide, Rangeley.

In Two Forty Horse Power Automobiles.

The touring committee appointed to lay out the route for the 1906 Glidden tour under the direction of the Automobile Club of America consisted of Mr. Augustus O. Post, Mr. James B. Dill and accompanied by Mr. Lazarink the well known photographic artist and with other assistants reached Rangeley last Friday night in a somewhat dismantled condition but still moving. They had come from Albany, N. Y. to Lake George up the west side of Lake George to Loon lake through the Adirondacks the Keen Valley to Plattsburgh and Rouses Point, N. Y., from there into Canada stopping at Montreal.

Here their difficulties began because the spring had been so late the frost was not yet fully out of the ground the snow not more than three weeks off the road. Therefore the roads were not in any state of repair and from Montreal to Quebec the distance of about 170 miles it was like ploughing through Canadian clay. After two days in Quebec a start was made across the provinces of Canada for the Maine border. It must be borne in mind that the progress was necessarily slow for the reason that it was a part of the duty of this committee to lay out the road in detail specifying every term and every distance in writing so that those that followed might find the course plain.

It was Mr. Lazarink's duty to photograph each turn in the road with a card in the fork of the road where the route lay. Another thing that detained the committee was in making arrangements with some men in each district to place sign boards along the route from Buffalo to Brettonwoods, N. H. These signboards were to be made in the shape of arrows with the initials of the Club and pointed in the direction of the route to be travelled with the distance on each arrow to the next arrow so that the entire route from Buffalo, N. Y. to Brettonwoods, N. H. a distance of more than 1000 miles will be arrowed. This took some time, however, because the permission of the authorities had to be obtained to put these sign boards through the state. However, there was another good side of it, namely that it was a criminal crime for anyone who interfered or took them down.

One detail that it may be interesting for you to know is that there is to be printed in advance a book giving every detail of the trip, pointing out every place of illustration of every doubtful turn in the road, containing figures of the important ascents and descents, bridges, declines and all dangerous spots that we crossed so that any automobilist with the book in hand will be able to scan the road ten miles in advance. The necessity for all this will appear when it is understood that each automobile has so many seconds start in advance of the other. They are all placed in line each morning with time and if Automobile No. 7 stops for one-half a minute to get out and take directions it would interfere with the time of 200 automobiles in line. The roads from Quebec through Canada were found to be in a poor condition. Not that they will be thus found in July, but they have not been repaired since the snow went off. Where the roads cross little rivulets and was very difficult to cross, two cross pieces and three or four logs were laid by the committee for temporary use. The repairs which the committee made was simply to get over the obstruction but as one of them said it would doubtfully not serve as permanent repairs.

The committee took with them some of the road supervisors of the district and pointed out to them parts of the road that ought to be changed. The principal object of the supervisors in going was to have a good time, but in going over a very rough place in the road the machine struck an obstruction and the supervisors went as high in the air as any of them, and this led them to see the object in good road building.

After crossing the border line in Maine the roads were found in a better condition. Members of the committee who had travelled over the road before understood the situation; namely that the roads had not been gone over since the snow came off the ground. In many cases the frost was not yet out of the ground and the roads were in a soft jelly like condition. The route in the United States from the border line was from Jackman to Parlin's Pond, to West Forks and to the Forks Hotel to the bank of the Kennebec river. The road along the Kennebec river although the condition is very firm it is necessary to proceed with the greatest caution least we should have an accident. From the Forks down the river until well by Caratunk the committee proceeded at a rate not over 6 miles an hour and even then there was the greatest alarm expressed lest an accident should happen. For instance, at the Forks the mother knowing that her daughter was driving up with a team as it was expressed, however, persuaded a bicycle rider to go down the road six miles and warn her daughter to turn the team around. This in spite of the fact that the committee assured her that they would keep on the look out. From Bingham on the Kennebec to Solon is an open, clear road. At Solon the river was crossed and the road passed through North New Portland up through Lexington Flats where there is a six mile straight of way road with width enough for three automobiles to proceed side by side to Lexington Flats. Fifty years ago with farms and farming country, today they are perfectly deserted, but as the road is only a stage route from the Dead River it is kept in good order. From Lexington Flats the road winds up for three miles and one-half up to the height of the land. Along here and through the Dead River region one of the members of the committee who had travelled one right say in almost every part of the world said that he had never seen a more beautiful stretch of natural road in his life. Full forty miles of pleasant road with subsequently an intervening house now and then a deserted farm house with no hills worth mentioning. One gentleman said that he felt sure that 60 miles from North New Portland to Rangeley Maine would amply repay one for coming a 1000 miles. Members of the committee from North New Portland to Rangeley counted in plain sight deer who regarded the automobile parade as for their special benefit and as for porcupine and other animals down to rabbits it was now a red letter day to them. The members of the committee are spending the day at fishing and they said the time of their departure would depend entirely upon their luck at fishing. From Rangeley the route will run to Farmington or Phillips then through Weld, Dixfield, Rumford Falls crossing the Androscoggon river at Rumford Falls, thence to Berlin, N. H. and to Gorham and through to Brettonwoods.

The date of starting from New York it is understood has not yet definitely been fixed but it will be about the 29th of July.

Edward Stearns of the American Bridge Co., of Boston was a recent guest at The Maples and enjoyed the fishing very much. On his return home he carried with him several fine trout and salmon weighing from 3 to 6 pounds each.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true. "Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds. The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms. Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health.— How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Alice Berryhill.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only. Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation of the female organs and was in a serious condition. "My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time. "Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had female troubles and who to-day are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."

Just as surely as Mrs. Berryhill was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills. If you are sick write Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.

TROUT OF EIGHT POUNDS.

ANGLERS AT MIDDLE DAM WHO CAUGHT SOME OF THEM.

People Who Are Present and Something
About What They Have Done and Are Doing.

(Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.)
ANGLERS' RETREAT, MIDDLE DAM,
June 9, 1906.

Everyone is glad to see the sun shining and all hope for good weather, for there have been but three pleasant days since the first guest arrived on May 17. The road across the "five-mile carry" is very muddy but will be in good condition by the time there is much travel through Dixville Notch, when the hotels in the White Mountains open the last of the month.

The first party to go through were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leviser of Boston, who on June 1 went across to Colebrook, N. H., and took a carriage drive through the White Mountains.

Lakeside hotel on Umbagog lake is open and the buckboard goes across the carry and makes daily connections with the steamers.

The telephone connections way off here in the wilderness are greatly appreciated, parties going to Colebrook and the mountains make all arrangements by telephone for the teams to meet them and there is no delay. That there is to be an increase of travel this way to Quebec and the White Mountains is proved by the many letters received.

Proprietor Capt. E. F. Coburn has had a big spring travel and nearly every camp is already engaged for the summer.

Judge Robert A. Livingston of New York City, who for several years has spent the summers here, came in May to remain until October. The Judge is a great lover of nature and spends much time in the forest studying the flowers, trees, birds, animals and insects. He never fishes except with the fly and only kills a fish now and then to eat. Joseph Roura, a New York lawyer has been a guest of the Judge for ten days, and had his first experience fishing and was greatly delighted with this region. He never before was in the wilderness.

Camp Satisfaction is taken for ten days by the following party from Brattleboro, Vt.: Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Peters, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rice. They fish some and make trips over the lake. True Durkee is their guide. H. C. Rice is high line with a 6-pound salmon. Dr. Aldrich caught a 5-pound trout. They have taken several 3-pounders on a fly.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Meyer of New Brunswick, N. J. are for two months at home in Camp Wenona. Mr. M. is a good fisherman and although he goes fishing all by himself has taken some fine ones, the largest 6 pounds.

A. L. Simmons and Wm. A. Perry of New Bedford, Mass., had a successful fishing trip here. A 5-pound salmon was their largest.

Hon. John E. Thayer of Lancaster, Mass. was here Friday on his way home from a week at his camp at B Pond. H. H. Follen of the same city was his guest. In July Mr. Thayer will open his elegant summer place, Birch Lodge, on the lake shore above Upper Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gammon of Mechanic Falls, with W. J. Moulton for guide, are having good luck. Mr. G. caught a 4-pound trout, a 3-pound salmon and several smaller ones. Their friends Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Chase of Malden, Mass. are with them. Will Sargent is their guide, and they have had good luck, only none over four pounds have come to their nets.

The road commissioner, R. L. Taylor of Mexico, E. P. Faunce of Oxford and D. A. Ballard of Fryeburg, were here this week looking over the carry, and will soon have a crew of men at work on the road.

Capt. Coburn has improved the hotel and camps, and is all ready with his teams and steamboats to look out for the summer rush of travel. Fred Hutchins of Andover is again acting as clerk, having been in Capt. Coburn's employ for eight seasons.

Those who are up early, and often at sunset see the deer feeding only a few rods away back of the hotel. They are very tame and stay around a long time.

That the fly fishing is good W. J. Moulton, the guide, proved one day this week. Below the dam he caught ten salmon weighing from one to three pounds each. Most of them he returned to grow bigger.

Three trout weighing 8 pounds each, have been caught by guests here within the past two weeks. L. Reed of Utica, N. Y., Charles Coburn, guide, one 8-14 pounds. Will Sargent guided G. H. Johnson of Canton who caught a trout of 8 pounds, and John C. Young of New York City also caught an 8-pounder. Their trout were all weighed here at the hotel. Who says there are no big trout at the Rangeleys.

VARNUM POND FISHING.

Some of the People There and What They Are Doing.

(Special correspondence to Maine Woods.)
FARMINGTON, June 12, 1906.

E. C. Merrell and T. A. Clifford of Waterville, caught June 6, two salmon, one trout, the two weighing 8 pounds, and one salmon 4 pounds.

Bert Houghton of Wilton, Arthur Chase and a friend took 9 salmon and trout Thursday.

Harry Berry and wife, John Craig and wife from Farmington spent Saturday night and Sunday at Lake View cottage.

L. P. Gould and son from Livermore fished Friday on Varnum pond, taking three fish, one togue and two salmon.

Forest Lake Association.

Mr. H. A. Haskell of Wakefield, Mass., who run Munyon Spring Camps last season is this season in charge of the Forest Lake Association hotel and property at Mast Hope, Pike County, Pa.

This club has an immense place, 3000 acres in extent (a 15 mile walk around the outside of the club grounds.)

There are three fine lakes stocked with black bass and pickerel.

The main club house has 75 rooms, billiard room, private parlors, writing and reading rooms and there are six private cottages connected with the club property.

A large farm is run in connection with the place and they raise a great quantity of vegetables

It requires five horses to do the farm work and although it is early in the season there are twenty five employees on the payroll.

Experience

backed by the general law of average proves that the first appearance of an advertisement does not bring business nor even create much curiosity. It costs little to advertise in MAINE WOODS. A trial (one time) insertion for business advertising is a waste of money. If you go in, stay in and it will pay you. "Keeping everlastingly at it" is the only way to success.

In continuity is strength. In disconnection is failure. Few people buy anything the first time they hear about it. There is not a solitary case where intermittent advertising has brought returns compared with that from continuous advertising—that everlasting pounding away at the public day in and day out.

FISH BIG, POND SMALL.

SPORTING GOSSIP FROM UP MOOSE-
HEAD WAY FOR WOODS READERS.

Boy of the Bent Pine Type Got a Four Pound Trout Then Others Visited Standlow Pond.

Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.
GREENVILLE, June 6, 1906.

With the change of time on the Bangor and Aroostook and the addition of the extra summer train, the summer season may be said to be well under way. Every incoming train is filled with fisherman and summer visitors bound for the various resorts on the lake. Fishing, which has been very good all through the spring, is improving every day.

On June 1st, the first day of open time on Shadow Pond, for this season, 7 salmon and an 6 pound square tail trout were taken.

Shadow Pond is a small pond possibly an eighth of an mile long, situated within a stone throw of Greenville Junction, just back of the Canadian Pacific Railroad station and separated from Moosehead lake by a natural embankment along the top of which runs the Canadian Pacific Railroad track. It has no visible inlet or outlet, and the water level is some ten feet higher than that of Moosehead. Until three years ago, no one had ever dreamed of fishing there much less catching large salmon or trout.

In the spring of 1904 a boy, who was fishing from the bank in Moosehead, climbed up the bank over the Canadian Pacific railroad track and dropped a small hook in Shadow Pond, hoping to catch a minnow to use for bait. He caught none, as there are none in the pond, but he hooked and what is more strange succeeded, in landing a 4-pound salmon.

The news quickly spread and before long there were several canoes on the pond and during the next ten days some 25 fish were taken, the average weight being 5 pounds. The record salmon was caught by Capt. Chas. Capen weight 8 pounds and 2 ounces. The 6-pound trout, above referred to is the only trout that has ever been caught in the pond. As soon as possible after the discovery of salmon in the pond it was closed for fishing except during the months of June and July, fly fishing only allowed.

Every one is looking forward to the annual Sportsmen's excursion to Kineo during the first of July. Much interest is manifested in the various sports to be held on the 4th and 5th, especially the launch race. It will be practically the first event of the kind here and there is much rivalry among the owners.

Mr. Reginald Thomas, who owns camps on Rippoguenus has just unloaded from the cars a 30 foot launch which he will use on Chesuncook lake. He will run the boat to North East Carry, haul it across the two mile carry and then run it down the West Branch to Chesuncook.

Mr. E. H. Outerbridge has also just received a power dory for his private use on the lake.

SWEET'S POND LUCK.

Records of Fish Taken at New Vineyard
This Week.

[Special correspondence to MAINE WOODS.]
SWEET'S POND, NEW VINEYARD,
June 12, 1901.

The fishing season is now on in good earnest at Sweet's pond and the few boats that have been on the pond have nearly all got some big fish for their trouble. For the past week hardly any, if any at all, have been on the pond without hooking a big fish, although a few of those old settlers proved too much for the skill and tackle of those fishing, and after getting them up in sight, the fish broke away. Usually it is a case of being in too much of a hurry. When this occurs, we have yet to hear of one being taken that weighed less than 4 pounds, the majority weighing from 6 to 10 pounds. The most of them are salmon, although some of the fine big togue have been taken.

We predict that there will be some record breakers taken from the water this week, as there are plenty of the big fellows down there waiting to break up some one's fishing tackle.

Camps and Cottages.

A. S. Hinds is this week entertaining at his beautiful summer home on Mooselookmeguntic, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Loring, Mrs. E. S. Maguire of Portland and his son Charles B. Hinds and bride, who in a few days sail for Europe.

The flag is flying at Camp Newton. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Newton of Boston are there for the season.

Camp Rockwood will not be closed again until October days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richie and daughters of Arlington, Mass., will be at home there.

Camp Midway, on the carry below Upper Dam has been open a week and the following Lewiston gentlemen with George Goodwin, guide have been lucky fishermen. Messrs. Charles Benson, C. J. and A. B. Barker. I noticed on Monday their guide bringing in C. J. Barker's afternoon catch, three trout weighing 1 1/2, 3 1/2 and 5 pounds and a 2-pound salmon.

"Bellevue" one of the most beautiful summer homes at the Rangeleys has been open for ten days.

Dr. and Mrs. Norton Donns and sons, Master McKean and Master Norton, and the doctor's father R. N. Donns of Germantown, Penn., have had a most delightful outing.

Master Norton a lad of ten happy summers with his guide had great success and the skill with which he handled the rod as he brought to net a 6 1/2 pound trout, one 3 pound and a 5 pound salmon was wonderful.

The next day he caught a 4 pound salmon and several two pounders and the following day a fine catch, the largest 3 pounds.

George Thomas is their guide and Arthur Poore has charge of the place and will have everything in readiness for the family, who return in July for a three month's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Berry of Waltham, Mass., have closed their camp on Rangeley lake after a two week's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Partridge of Medford, Mass. have opened their camp on Wing's Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cunningham of New York, who have opened their elegant set of log cabins on the Rangeley lake, where they will pass the summer, are often seen with their coachman driving over the hills with the finest span of thoroughbred Kentucky horses ever seen in this part of Maine.

Many friends are glad to learn the flag is flying at Maneskootuk, the gem of the Rangeleys, as the island in Rangeley lake owned by Frederick S. Dickson of Cleveland, Ohio has long been called.

On Monday night Mrs. F. S. Dickson accompanied by her daughter and husband Mr. and Mrs. Maximilian Fortier and little daughter arrived for the summer and later will be joined by Mr. Dickson and son.

SANDY RIVER VALLEY.

(By D. F. Hodges in Lewiston Sun.)

The day is sleeping on the hills,
An intense silence all things fills
Save where some babbling brooklet trills
Up Sandy River valley.

Like horseback rider 'gainst the steep
Leans the dark spruce where ivies creep
'Neath shades which vague oblivion keep
By Sandy River valley.

The clematis with hoary head
In downy enwreath the lowly bed
Of summer's wild flowers long since dead
Up Sandy River valley.

The maple's flame, the willow's throng,
We almost hear the thrasher's song
Which once swept wild-grape-bowers, along
Up Sandy River valley.

And later when the day is o'er
The harvest moon from eastern shore
Lights up the happy cottage door
In Sandy River valley.

Here children sing—here maiden's eyes
Eclipse—almost the gentian's dyes;
Matron and sire all dearly prize
Sweet Sandy River valley.

The dwellers 'neath the household tree—
Owned ne'er by wealth nor penury—
Enjoy the free man's sovereignty
Up Sandy River valley.

Thus we, who live neath nature's sway
Care little for fame's leaves of bay,
Care little for a great world's fray
Up Sandy River valley.

And when from us this life shall flee
We hope the star of morn may be
All light beyond that unknown sea
To Sandy River valley.

Oscar Beede fond good luck the first of the week fishing on a brook in Madrid.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Disappointed Dog

A dog saw a rabbit sitting in the middle of a field munching away upon a carrot top.

"I'll just catch that rabbit," said the dog, and away he went after it at full speed.

But he was not quick enough, for Mr. Rabbit saw him, dropped his carrot top and scampered. Oh, it was a

"I WANT THIS RABBIT FOR MY DINNER. great race! The dog went so fast that he gradually gained on the fleeing hare.

"I'll have you in a minute," said the dog. "No, you won't," answered the rabbit.

"Why?" called the dog. "Because there is another somebody that wants me more than you do," answered the rabbit.

And, sure enough, at that very moment a great big hawk swooped down from the skies and dug his talons into the back of the rabbit. Then the hawk spread his wings again and mounted to the skies.

"I want this rabbit for my dinner," said the hawk as he winked at the dog.

And the dog felt just about as cheap as anybody ever did to see his prey get away from him in that way.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
